

Italian language and culture: focus on videos and movies (A1/A2)

Lecturer: Roberto Aprigliano

Language

Italian

Course description and objectives

This course is designed for A1/A2 levels according to the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages - CEFR. It offers an engaging and immersive approach to acquiring basic Italian language skills while simultaneously exploring contemporary Italian culture through the captivating medium of films and videos. Through carefully selected movie clips, short films, and web series, students will develop basic vocabulary and grammar, improve listening comprehension, and gain insights into Italian daily life, customs, and social dynamics. The primary objective is to build confidence in understanding and producing simple Italian in real – world contexts, using cinema as a springboard for discussion and cultural exploration.

Audience

The course is open to all Bocconi students.

Prerequisites

- No prior knowledge of Italian is required.
- A genuine interest in Italian language and culture, and a willingness to engage with audiovisual materials.
