QUESTION TAGS

Question tags consist of an auxiliary verb and a personal pronoun. There are a few basic rules:

1. If there is an auxiliary (do, be, have) or modal auxiliary verb in the main clause, it is repeated in the question tag. For example:

He hasn't eaten yet, has he? She should be in bed by now, shouldn't she?

2. If there is an ordinary verb in the main clause, do is in the question tag. For example:

You know how to speak English, don't you? (Present) They went to California last year, didn't they? (Past) He had a heart attack last year, didn't he? (Past – have as ordinary verb)

3. Normally an affirmative statement has a negative question tag and vice versa. For example:

You're coming, aren't you? He doesn't like jazz, does he?

- 4. I am is followed by the question tag aren't !? For example: I'm stupid, aren't !?
- 5. After an imperative, will you? or would you? are the most common forms. Will you? Is the only form possible after a negative imperative. For example:

Pay attention, will you? Shut the door, would you? Don't be late, will you?

6. Negative expressions like no, nothing, nowhere and nobody in the main clause are followed by affirmative question tag. For example:

He takes no interest in his studies, does he?

7 Somebody/someone, everybody/everyone and nobody/no-one are followed by they in a question tag. For example.

Nobody called, did they?Everybody was happy, weren't they?

8. Nothing/anything in the main clause is followed by it in a question tag. For example:

Nothing could be finer, could it?Anything could happen now, couldn't it?
